Domestic News

- At Indore, soybean seed prices were quoted at ₹72,489/tonne, down by 189. Soy meal prices were quoted at ₹60,000 up by 750, while soybean oil prices were quoted at INR ₹142580 down 710/tonne. Soymeal (Hypro) was quoted at ₹63000 down by 500.
- Domestic Soybean Complex Prices Decline in Indore : On October 27, 2026, soybean prices in Indore declined by ₹189 to ₹72,489 per tonne, while refined soybean oil prices fell by ₹710 to ₹1,42,580 per tonne. Soybean meal prices moved in the opposite direction, rising by ₹750 to ₹60,000 per tonne. However, high-protein soybean meal (Hypro) prices declined by ₹500 to ₹63,000 per tonne, indicating mixed movements across the domestic soybean complex.
- Soybean Prices Weaken Across Major Domestic Markets : Soybean prices declined across the major domestic markets on October 27. In the mandi segment, prices in Kota fell by ₹500 to ₹71,000 per tonne, while Nagpur recorded a sharper decline of ₹2,000 to ₹70,000 per tonne. In the plant segment, soybean prices in Indore and Kota decreased by ₹500 each to ₹73,500 and ₹71,500 per tonne, respectively. Indore mandi prices were reported at ₹72,000 per tonne, with no previous-day comparison available. The overall decline across key markets reflects weaker soybean prices during the session.
- Soybean Meal Prices Show Mixed Trends : Domestic soybean meal prices remained largely stable on October 27. FAQ-grade meal prices in Akola and Hingoli held steady at ₹61,000 and ₹63,000 per tonne, respectively, while Indore prices remained unchanged at ₹59,000 per tonne. In Dhule, prices declined by ₹500 to ₹63,500 per tonne. The largely stable trend across major markets indicates limited movement in soybean meal prices, despite the decline in soybean prices.
- Refined Soybean Oil Prices Decline Across Domestic Markets : Refined soybean oil prices declined across all reported domestic markets on October 27. Prices in Akola and Indore fell by ₹500 each to ₹1,45,000 and ₹1,43,500 per tonne, respectively. Jalna prices also decreased by ₹500 to ₹1,45,500 per tonne, while Kandla recorded the sharpest decline of ₹1,000 to ₹1,42,000 per tonne. In contrast, crude soybean oil prices on a CIF Kandla basis increased by ₹5 to ₹1,340 per tonne. The decline in refined oil prices indicates continued weakness in the domestic edible oil market.
- Soybean Crushing Margins Improve but Remain Negative : The soybean crushing margin in Indore improved on October 27 but remained in negative territory. The ex-plant soybean price declined by ₹500 to ₹73,500 per tonne, bringing the total processing cost down by ₹490 to ₹73,380 per tonne. Meanwhile, soybean oil realization fell by ₹180 to ₹24,570 per tonne, as the solvent extraction oil price declined by ₹1,000 to ₹1,36,500 per tonne. Soybean meal realization remained unchanged at ₹48,380 per tonne, resulting in total realization of ₹72,950 per tonne, down ₹180 from the previous day. Consequently, the net crushing loss narrowed by ₹310 to ₹430 per tonne, compared with ₹740 per tonne on October 26. Despite the improvement, crushing economics remained unprofitable.
- Post-Monsoon Rainfall Remains Below Normal Across India : India received 33.9 mm of post-monsoon rainfall against the normal of 69.9 mm, representing a 52% deficit from the Long Period Average (LPA). Central India recorded only 4.6 mm against the normal of 54.5 mm, resulting in a substantial 91% deficit. East and Northeast India received 35.9 mm against the normal of 117.6 mm, a deficit of 69%. South Peninsula rainfall stood at 103.2 mm compared with the normal of 134.4 mm, marking a 23% shortfall. Northwest India recorded 20.5 mm against the normal of 20.8 mm, with rainfall nearly at normal levels and a marginal deficit of 1%. The significant rainfall shortages across Central, East and Northeast India highlight uneven post-monsoon rainfall distribution.

International News

- On Monday 27th Oct, CBOT soybean futures for Nov 2026 delivery were quoted at 1242.2 cents down by 15.2/bushel, indicating mild weakness in soybean prices. Soybean meal futures down by USD 6.8 to USD 339.7/short tonne, while soybean oil futures slipped up by 0.21 cents to 67 cents/pound.
- US Soybean Prices Fall to Two-Month Low Amid Harvest Pressure : US soybean futures fell to a two-month low on October 26, 2026, as the accelerating harvest increased supply pressure and declining crude oil prices weakened market sentiment. The most-active Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT) soybean contract dropped 1.2% to $12.41¼ per bushel, its lowest level since August 26. The decline came despite strong export demand, with US soybean export sales reaching 2.8 million tonnes for the week ended October 15, close to the upper end of market expectations, supported by Chinese purchases. However, the arrival of newly harvested supplies and weaker crude oil prices outweighed export demand, keeping the market under pressure. In the near term, soybean prices will depend on the pace of US harvesting, export demand and movements in crude oil prices.
- China Soybean Meal Prices Decline 3% in October Amid Ample Supply : China's soybean meal prices declined by 3% during October, falling from RMB 3,400 per tonne on October 1 to RMB 3,298 per tonne on October 26, as rising supplies and weak feed demand weighed on the market. Smooth progress in the US soybean harvest and higher production estimates increased global supply pressure, while Chinese soybean imports are expected to reach 8.5 million tonnes in October and nearly 9.5 million tonnes during November–December. Higher crushing activity has pushed soybean meal inventories to around 1.09 million tonnes, above levels recorded during the same period in previous years. Demand remains weak as losses in the livestock sector have discouraged large-scale restocking, while feed manufacturers continue to purchase mainly for immediate requirements. Ample corn supplies have also reduced feed costs and limited incentives to increase soybean meal usage. However, elevated Brazilian soybean import costs, weak crushing margins and potential weather disruptions in South America may provide some support.
